

BILINGUAL BOOK WALK - TITLE LIST

ISBN: 9781946071361

Emma is a curious girl. She likes to explore and learn. And she does it right in her neighborhood, very close to her home. Her curiosity takes her to venture into the world of bees: their magic, their mystery, and the delicate natural balance that is necessary for them to continue to fulfill their role in the ecosystem. The ecosystem of Emma, her neighborhood and everyone.

ENVIRONMENTAL ED.

ECOSYSTEM

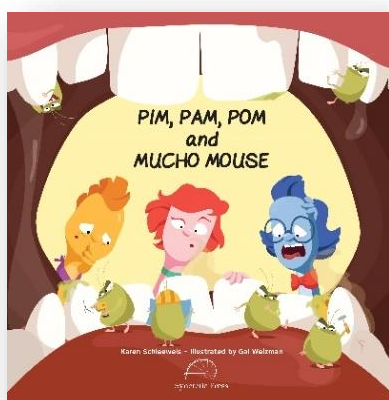

ISBN: 9781946071248

Noah received a present: a notebook with smooth white pages that called out to him to draw. So Noah drew. He drew a happy red cat. As the days went by the cat lost her smile. Noah decided to add more drawings so his cat would be happy again. He did this again and again until he realized that this was not the solution.

Finally, he discovered the secret...

SEL – Social awareness

FRIENDSHIP

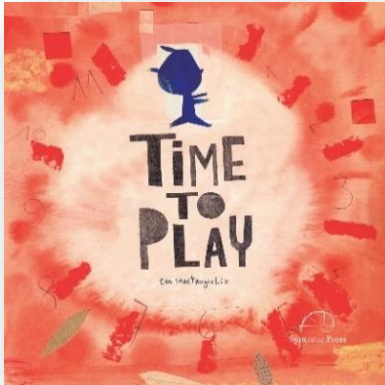

ISBN: 9781946071019

Based on research and recommendations from the American Dental Association, comes a fun story with exciting illustrations and dental-friendly language. One of the best introductions for toddlers and preschoolers to learn the importance of caring for their teeth.

The illustrations will keep the child's attention. As they laugh and have fun, they will learn how to keep their teeth and gums healthy.

SEL – Relationship skills

ORAL HEALTH

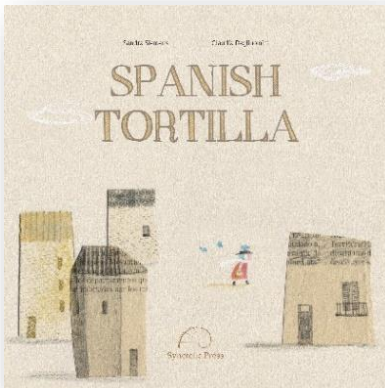

ISBN: 9781946071279

Olivia can play all day, every day, anytime. Her imagination knows no bounds and no worries plague her. That is until she spies a strange ticking gadget. What is it? What does it do? She straps it on and finds herself face to face with Time.

All the sudden she is no longer in charge of her time, the genie of the wristwatch is the boss!

SEL – Self awareness

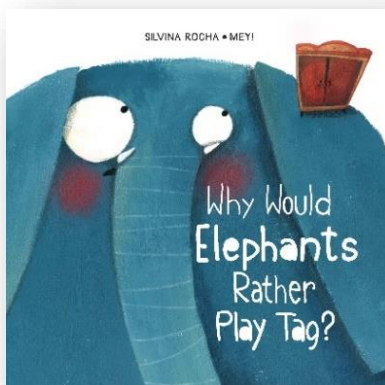

SEL – Resp. Decision-making

ISBN: 9781946071255

Carmen goes to the store to buy eggs, but on the way, she discovers a world of simple beautiful things and forgets about the eggs. She'll return home time and time again with all sorts of foods and flowers... but not the eggs.

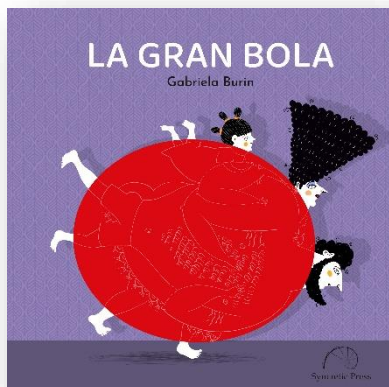

A beautiful circular story that reminds us how it truly is about the journey, not the destination.

ISBN: 9780994057068

Friends of all shapes and sizes play hide and seek. The mouse counts to ten. The bee hides in a matchbox, the cat hides in the piano, and the elephant looks, and looks, and looks....Will he be able to find a hiding spot in time? This story invites children into a fun game of hide and seek.

SEL – Self awareness

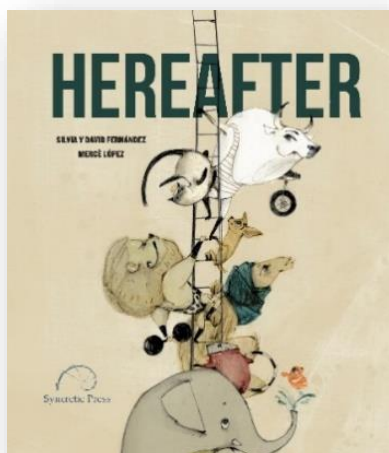

ISBN: 9781946071347

La Gran Bola tells us, in rhyme and with a lot of humor, the story of the Esnaola. This family, when angry, spits balls of bad humor all over the house until they finally get trapped inside a large ball of bad mood and can no longer move! Will they be able to get out?

The author makes us laugh and reflect on what really matters in life.

SEL – Self awareness

SEL – Resp. Decision-making

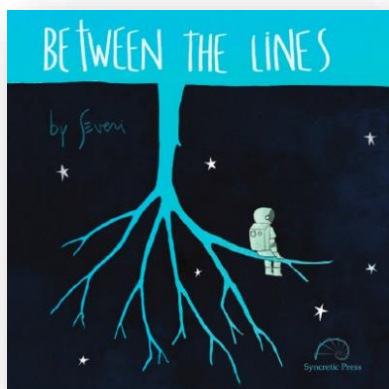

ISBN: 9781946071316

The artists of the Galaxy Circus risk their lives on a daily basis. They jump from the trapeze without a net, swallow fire and fly shot by cannons. Maybe that's why they always wonder so much about death. What happens after it? What will the "hereafter" be like?

At Galaxy Circus there are as many different responses as species of animals.

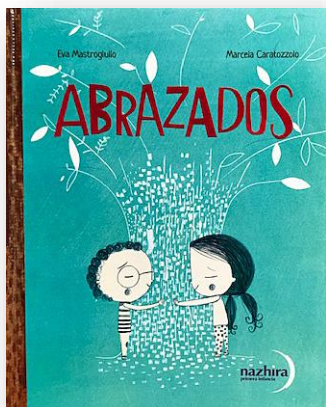

SEL – Social awareness

DIVERSITY – Religion

ISBN: 9781946071293

A lovely collection from one of the best Argentinean cartoonist. He uses minimal text and spare yet striking images, mostly drawn in black crayon but with occasional, delightful bursts of color. Many of the illustrations are metaphorical, like visual poems. His pencil bonds the personal to the universal. With or without words, his illustrations will nest in your soul.

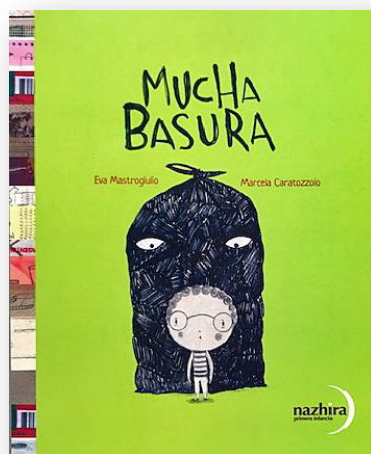

ISBN: 9789871706532

After a friendly hug in the park, Lupita and Roberto discover that trees are full of life. Its branches with abundant leaves protect us, give us shade and oxygen. They are also the home of multiple ecosystems, supporting many kinds of animals, plants and insects. Lupita and Roberto's discovery will change their perspective on trees forever.

ENVIRONMENTAL ED.

ECOSYSTEMS / TREES

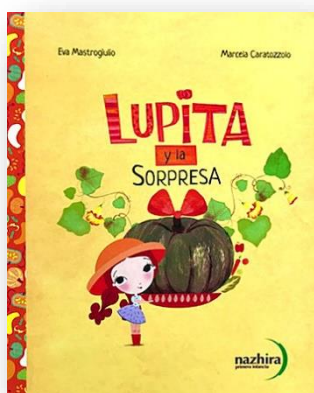

ISBN: 9789871706464

Lots of garbage tells the story of Roberto, a kid's journey as he becomes aware of the need to recycle and better manage the waste we produce. An invitation to develop a careful and committed look at urban solid waste, a problem in which we are all part of the problem and the solution.

ENVIRONMENTAL ED.

RECYCLING

ISBN: 9789871706525

Lupita and the surprise brings children closer to a healthy way of life that is more respectful to our planet.

Gastronomy, botany and ecology bring the little ones closer to responsible consumption practices.

ENVIRONMENTAL ED.

SEEDS LIFE CYCLE

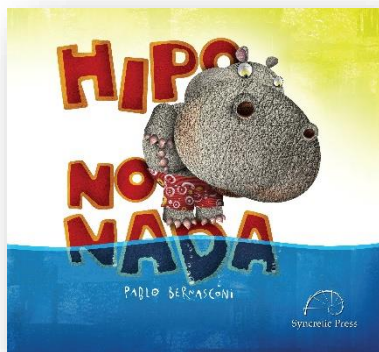

ISBN: 9781946071101

It is Otto's birthday and he wants to celebrate it with all his friends. He sends out the invitations; promising a big hug when they come over. But how do his friends feel about his promised "big hug"? One by one they all start sharing their thoughts and fears. Leaning on each other, they discover that trusting friends goes a long way, even in the deep ocean!

SEL – Self management

FRIENDSHIP

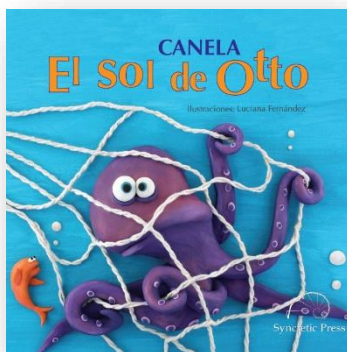

ISBN: 9781946071088

Hippo is afraid of the water, so he convinced himself that swimming must be boring. He then decides to go out looking for something different to do. But nothing works out: he is too heavy or too big to jump on the rope or climb trees. Maybe there's something he can do... He'll have to find the courage to do it. A story, full of humor, about our fears and how we rise above them.

SEL – Self management

SEL – Social awareness

SEL – Self awareness

ISBN: 9781946071118

Otto, the octopus, hears his friends in the deep sea tell him stories about the sun. Now he can't wait to see it with his own eyes! His friends, the dolphin and the swordfish agree to guide him all the way to the surface. But this trip will have many surprises! A fun story of exploration, discovery and friendship.

SEL – Self management

SEL – Social awareness

UPCOMING TITLES

ISBN: 9789871019694

ENVIRONMENTAL ED.

CONSERVATION

LATIN AMERICAN MYTH – GUARANI (BRASIL/PARAGUAY)

The young Moroíá liked to brag about his hunting skills: monkeys, toucans, macaws, and parrots, all fell under his arrows. Despite his father's warnings, he did not respect the land or its inhabitants. But the Caipora, the witty protector of the jungle, is watching. And he has a lesson for him...

ISBN: 9789871019465

LATIN AMERICAN MYTH – AYMARA (BOLIVIA)

There was a times when the inhabitants of the Bolivian highlands, the Aymara people, did not have nights. There was day light all 24 hours of the day. It was difficult to sleep. Amaru and Kusi wanted to help their people and started borrowing night time from different animals: the guinea pig, the puma and the armadillo. Searching for right amount of night time, they will discover the immensity of the universe.

ISBN: 978987101970

LATIN AMERICAN MYTH – MAPUCHE (CHILE)

The young Fulcamil insists daily: he wants to go fishing with his father and his men. Isn't he old enough already? When will they let him be part of the group of twelve fishermen? The sea, even though it looks immense and powerful, does not frighten him. He is sure he can take care of himself now, or so he thinks... Luckily, beneath the waves, Pincoya, the sea goddess, keeps an eye on him.

ISBN: 9786078565382

Long, long ago scorpions were very big. They were beautiful, with large antlers. But one day the earth shook, the wind blew, the rain fell, and a great transformation occurred. Scorpions had to figure out how to adapt. Since then, nothing has been the same.

LATIN AMERICAN MYTH – ZAPOTECA (MEXICO)